RE: Reference for BPR Carpentry Limited

I am writing to formally recommend the services of BPR Carpentry Limited, who have worked with Myco Construction Ltd as a subcontractor on a number of projects ranging in value from £200k to £1m.

One of the schemes I was directly responsible for, Thomas's Day School, Kensington, was particularly challenging in terms of design development, programme constraints, site logistics, and cost control. Throughout the project, BPR Carpentry worked collaboratively with the delivery team, demonstrating a proactive and solutions-focused approach that contributed significantly to the successful completion of the scheme.

In addition, BPR Carpentry were engaged on a hotel project in Brighton, a cut and carve of 3 town houses on the sea front, where they again demonstrated flexibility and professionalism while working within a fast-paced, quality-driven environment with tight programme constraints and high finishing standards.

BPR Carpentry consistently demonstrated the following attributes:

- Reliable and punctal: They adhered strictly to project schedules and consistently met deadlines, even under tight constraints.
- Highly skilled: Their technical expertise in carpentry was evident in the high standard of workmanship delivered across all projects.
- Professional: On-site coordination was handled professionally, and all required documentation, queries, and variations were addressed promptly.
- Safety-conscious: They consistently demonstrated a strong commitment to health and safety standards on site.

I would not hesitate to use BPR Carpentry Limited again on future projects and would highly recommend them to any organisation seeking a competent, dependable, and professional subcontractor.
